Global health problems threaten everyone. Emory Global Health Institute and its partners work in innovative ways to identify and address these threats.

globalhealth.emory.edu
GLOBAL HEALTH
A new strain of flu emerges in Asia and spreads around the world.

Health experts collaborate on vaccine development.

Emory Global Health Institute connects public health institutes around the world to share best vaccination practices.

PUBLIC HEALTH
American public health agencies promote nationwide vaccination.

PERSONAL HEALTH
You go to the doctor for flu vaccine or treatment.